Introduction

We believe this policy should be a working document that is fit for purpose, represents the college ethos, enables consistency and quality across the college.

We believe cyber bullying is the use of a mobile phone or the internet to deliberately upset another person by spreading lies and rumours online; by sending or forwarding mean messages via instant messages, text or on social networks; by posting photographs without consent and by tricking others to reveal personal information. Cyber bullying can happen at all times of the day and is in most cases it is anonymous and difficult to monitor.

We have a responsibility to ensure that cyber bullying does not take place in this college by ensuring learners, college personnel and parents understand what it is and how it can be prevented.

We understand cyber bullying is highly intrusive and the hurt it causes can be very severe. As it leaves no physical scars cyber bullying is not easy to detect by a parent or a teacher.

We acknowledge cyber bullying can take place anywhere and can target learners and college personnel. There are many types of cyber bullying such as:

Texting	Sending abusive, nasty or threatening text messages to someone is a type of bullying. This could include sharing those texts with other people who might join in the bullying.
Social Networking sites	Social networks such Facebook, Twitter, Tumblr, Instagram, YouTube and many more, can be used in lots of different ways to bully someone.
Sexting	Sexting is when someone takes a sexually explicit picture or video of themselves and then sends it to someone else. Sometimes people who are trying to bully someone may ask for these kinds of images so they can send them on to other people.
Online gaming	Being abusive towards someone or harassing them on an online multi-player gaming site like Minecraft or Call of Duty is also a kind of online bullying. People may also steal or destroy your belongings or creations in games.
Emailing	Sending abusive emails is a type of bullying. Sometimes those emails might be shared with other people who could join in the bullying. Sending computer viruses or hurtful videos and pictures by email is also online bullying.
Abusive personal info	Sometimes people involved in bullying might post someone else's photos or personal information without that person's permission. This could include pretending to be someone else and writing fake comments or blogs.
Instant messaging (IM) and chatrooms	Sometimes people might get nasty messages when they are using instant messaging or chat rooms. Sending those types of messages using someone else's account without their permission is also online bullying.
Online grooming	This could be if someone is threatening to share a private or naked photo online.

We have a duty of care to protect learners and college personnel from cyber bullying as part of our responsibility to provide a safe, secure, caring and friendly college environment for all the learners in order to protect them from those who wish to deliberately hurt them emotionally. We believe all our safeguarding procedures are in line with current legislation and guidance including Keeping Children Safe in Education 2021 and that we promote the welfare of all learners in our care and college personnel.

We work hard to prevent cyber bullying by having in place a variety of safeguarding procedures.

We teach our young people to 'stop, speak, support' when online and aim to encourage them to stop negative behaviour, tell a responsible adult and support victims of bullying.

We work hard to prevent all forms of bullying from happening and to support learners who have been bullied by having in place resilience processes in order to help their recovery. We will provide counselling, engage with parents, if necessary, refer to the local authority's children's services or complete a Common Assessment Framework or refer to the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services. All support will be reviewed and improved if necessary. It is very important to work with parents and to keep them well informed at all stages.

We acknowledge that we have the power under the Education Act 2011 to examine the data or files of a mobile phone confiscated from a learner, and if the material breaches college discipline then the material may be deleted.

We are aware that a recent study has shown that there has been an increase in the number of incidents of bullying reported in colleges which have been caused by online bullying, harassment and problems caused by social media.

We believe that social networks are failing to understand the real scale of the problem. They need to realise that cyber-bullying is damaging the mental health of young users and they need to tackle this problem by:

- responding to reports of bullying within 24 hours;
- providing young users clear guidelines on how to behave online;
- taking tougher action on anyone who break the rules.

We all have a responsibility to ensure equality permeates into all aspects of college life and that everyone is treated equally irrespective of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. We want everyone connected with this college to feel safe, secure, valued and of equal worth.

We acknowledge the findings of the Race Disparity Audit that clearly shows how people of different ethnicities are treated across the public services of health, education, employment and the criminal justice system.

The educational section of the audit that covers: differences by region; attainment and economic disadvantage; exclusions and abuse; and destinations, has a significant importance for the strategic planning of this college.

However, a mobile phone containing material suspected to be evidence relevant to an offence or is a pornographic image of a child or an extreme pornographic image, will be handed to the police.

We wish to work closely with the Youth Participation Group and to hear their views and opinions as we acknowledge and support Article 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child that learners should be encouraged to form and to express their views.

We as a college community have a commitment to promote equality. Therefore, an equality impact assessment has been undertaken and we believe this policy is in line with the Equality Act 2010.

 - Ask for some advice. Tell someone you trust, like a parent, carer or teacher. They may be able to offer you some advice about what to do.
 - Delete the bullying. Go back and delete any upsetting or nasty posts, tweets or comments you've written.
 - Be the one to make a stand. Talk to others involved and encourage them to stop the bullying. It only takes one person to start making a big change.
